No widow will tell you losing her husband is easy, and its the same for the wives of shuhadah but we'll keep sacrificing for Allahs sake and if that means giving up those that are closest to us then we will give them up. The only hard part is the test of patience, not in the sense of not having ur husband in ur presence, but the fact you're still here whilst you long for Jannah. Patience is a sacrifice and we will remain patient until He wills. Alhamdulillah. Ina lilahi wa inna ilayhi raji'oon.
